LUNDY IS.... YOURS TO DISCOVER!

Educational Visits 2023

Whether you're looking for a day of Art, Geography, History, Science, Sustainability....

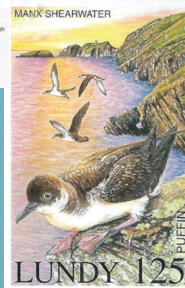

LUNDY HAS IT ALL....

Lundy is just three miles long and half a mile wide, twelve miles off shore, and is an key part of the North Devon Biosphere. It has a unique environment, and an ideal place for children to learn outside of the classroom. The island's rich history, natural landscape and remote community provide many curriculum opportunities, and an inspiring adventure which will help children's personal development and understanding of their world. Here's a glimpse of some of the learning a trip to Lundy can support:

Lundy is...Special

Conservation is key for Lundy, an excellent and precious example of wildlife and habitats both special in their local area and of international importance. Step off the ship and you are immediately surrounded by nature – blue seas, glorious wild flowers, and hosts of birds. In May or June you'll see our unique Lundy Cabbage – a plant that grows nowhere else in the world! September brings the seal breeding season and, on a Bideford sailing from April until the end of June, you will have the chance to view Lundy puffins and learn all about our protected seabirds.

Lundy is...Blue

Lundy's coastline is one of the most highly protected in the UK, as a Marine Nature Reserve, Marine Conservation Zone and No Take Zone. Explore what these designations mean and learn about our exceptional marine life from rare pink sea fans, to our resident breeding grey seals, and even basking sharks! With luck, you may even see dolphins or porpoises during your crossing on board MS Oldenburg.

Lundy is...Inspiring

Lundy's natural beauty inspires creativity. The many visual delights give a wealth of opportunities for pupils to explore their artistic side. Bring your sketch books to record what you see on a walk with the Education Officer, visiting some of her favourite places. Design your very own Lundy stamp and Lundy postcard to send back to your school by Lundy Post - the oldest private postal service in the world with its unique set of puffin-priced stamps.

Lundy is...Sustainable

Lundy provides a unique local case study for sustainability, with resources we take for granted like water and power being precious and limited commodities. Learn about the challenges of living on an island and the importance of recycling, good waste management and environmentally friendly practices in protecting this stunning but vulnerable landscape.

Lundy is...Timeless

Lundy has a vast and colourful history, and aside from learning about our infamous piratical past, a day visit can also focus on fascinating island life during the Victorian times and World War 2 years. The island is a fantastic case study for local history with sites going back to the Bronze age. There's much to see with a castle, 3 lighthouses and even a secret smugglers cave below the castle where the notorious Barnstaple MP Thomas Benson kept contraband and unsuspecting prisoners from North Devon!
