

The Vestry

Lundy – St Helen's Church

Built by the Reverend Hudson Heaven in 1896, St Helen's church stands as a beacon on the top of the island with a commanding view over the Bristol Channel. Located within the village, the vestry provides basic, compact and cosy accommodation for two.

St Helen's church and vestry were renovated in 2018 following a Heritage Lottery grant and church services are now held monthly. Between monthly services, The Lundy Co, in partnership with St Helen's P.C.C. are delighted to be able to let the vestry to visitors which will help support the future maintenance of the building.

Whether you are contemplating a spiritual retreat, research project or staying in a property with a difference, the vestry offers visitors a rare opportunity of a unique island experience. Please be aware you will be woken early with the swallows in the summer as there are no blackouts on the windows and the main window lets in the light of the rising sun, making for a very natural rhythm.

St Helen's Church

Lundy has long been an important site for Christianity with evidence of a small chapel dating back to the 12th century on Beacon Hill. St Helen's church was built and completed by the Reverend Hudson Heaven in 1896 at a cost of £4101. The church was consecrated on 7th June 1897 with a congregation of 165 in attendance. Today the tower holds an impressive 10 bells which are regularly used by visiting bell ringing groups.

St Helen's Centre for Education and Interpretation

As well as providing a place of worship, ceremony and contemplation, St Helen's also provides a wider community benefit to islanders, visitors, groups and educational establishments. The centre provides informative interpretation featuring many aspects of the islands rich and colourful history and wildlife along with its many owners and communities.

Visiting schools use St Helen's centre as a base for their frequent visits to the island during the sailing season. The centre is also used as a venue for lectures and talks from various groups and organisations.
